A MENDOCINO MURDER.

Capture and Attempted Lynching of the Perpetrators.

[S. F. Chronicle.]

A correspondent of the Chronicle, writing from Covelo, Mendocino Co., under date of September 15th, gives the details of a series of tragic occurrences which have taken place in that vicinity recently. On the 11th of July last A. J. Schrum, an old citizen of Covelo, was shot and killed while attending his evening duties about the farm. The aggravating wantonness of the crime caused an intense indignation in the town. Any clue of the murderer were eagerly sought for. One Jesse Anthony was unfortunately enough to have the finger of suspicion pointed toward him and was accordingly taken into custody. Proof against him being very meager, however, he was soon after released. In the meantime H. S. Dovebill, a constable, commenced to work up the case, and succeeded in obtaining proof that he deemed conclusive of the guilt of S. T. and L. Davis, brothers, whom he soon after, in company with Thomas Potts, a fellow-constable, arrested. News of the intended arrest having been noised abroad, a party of citizens, well armed, determined to intercept and lynch the prisoners on the road to jail. The officers cleverly managed to evade them, however, and succeeded in lodging their men in jail at Covelo. At nightfall a large mob had collected, and, proceeding to the jail, demanded the prisoners. Upon being refused they persisted in their demonstrations, finally causing Constable Potts, acting in self-defense, to fire upon the crowd, wounding and almost instantly killing a Frenchman named Frank Skezquez, an old citizen. The Davis brothers have been kept under a strong guard awaiting trial. The death of Skezquez has only intensified the excitement over the affair, and the authorities are in extreme anxiety for fear of further angry demonstrations by the mob.

THE HORSE IN MOTION.

Revelations Made by Electric Photography.

Mr. Muybridge says the positions assumed by a horse in rapid motion are not graceful—that electric photography proves this; and, as the camera cannot lie he is probably correct. It is the complete movement that gives the grace, not any single position. The "poetry of motion" does not apply to that which has no motion, and these pictures positively have none. They represent action arrested, if such a term may be used. We might as well say that music has no harmony because a section of sound, struck out from its fellows, in one-hundredth part of the time it takes for the blast of a trumpet, is not music. It is, however, interesting and instructive to learn the truth about anything; and especially so with regard to the actual position of the horse in movement. Mr. Muybridge has made a valuable contribution to science by his patient experiments, and many valuable facts can be learned by trainers of horses from a careful study of these singular pictures. They will learn, for instance, not to closely shave the fetlock of the hind feet, as most of them do, but leave the hair as a protection to the pastern joint, which lies flat on the ground just previous to the spring forward at each stride. They will learn to give the horse free movement; the animal knows what he wants to do with his head and feet a great deal better than most drivers. Nature is the horse's guide; it should be the horseman's also. In trotting a horse is clear of the ground more than one half of the time, while in running he is less than one-fourth of the time entirely free from his footing—the actual measurement being in the case of Occident in a stride of eighteen feet, nine inches, one foot only touches the ground for a space of nine inches, an almost inappreciable length of time; two feet are on the ground during eight feet of the stride, and all feet are in the air during ten feet of the space. In running the horse is entirely clear of the ground only five feet in a space of twenty-one feet six inches.

A Parisian Scandal.

The Spaniard who stole Mme. Ratazzaki's jewels recently is a young man of good family connected with the Montijos. He is warmly "protected" by the Spanish Embassy, and high French personages have interfered in his behalf to get him out of prison. He was engaged as a political spy by the Marquis de Molines, and it was in consequence of reports that he made that Zorilla was expelled from France by his Government. He also used to dog Castelar. He was also in some mysterious way connected with the German Embassy—an unwelcome link between it and the Bonapartist newspapers. Mme. Ratazzaki's losses are very serious. One of the articles stolen was a necklace consisting of five rows of large pearls, softly iridescent and of faultless shape. The thief was a Knight of the Orders of Isabella the Catholic and of Christ of Portugal, and had been promised the ribbon of the Legion of Honor by the Duc Decazes.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The Democrats of Idaho have nominated George Ainslie, of Idaho City, as delegates to Congress.
The United States Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., closed its session in Baltimore Saturday.
More hopeful reports are received from the yellow fever districts.

W. J. White was on Saturday, at Visalia, held in $5000 bonds to answer to a charge of manslaughter for killing Dr. Mehning. Bail was immediately given.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget it.
If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, it furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, and in more terrible diseases and death. White's Prairie Flower proves itself the great liver panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, OSBORN & SHOEMAKER.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

An unpleasant duty lies before us but we shall perform it in the interests of the people and of the Republican party. Every Republican will remember that the present county management has been impeached by two grand juries. They will also admit that a great many people believe that a ring of politicians and office holders has been formed for the purpose of setting grand juries at defiance, and forestalling any good which might come from their reports. The accused officials are now out in force, for re-election. Everybody admits that if nominated certain defeat will follow them. Democrats know this, and are working like beavers to secure the nomination of these men. Every scoundrel and bundle of cheek which the ring can induce is working for this end, and it becomes necessary to ask these men what they are trying to do.

Are you trying to beat the Republican party, gentlemen, or have you Democratic friends whom you would like to see elected? Does this party owe you, or do you owe the party? Further: Do you assume to say that it is make or break, in the sense that the party must nominate you or be beaten? Upon what grounds do you say it? You say the grand jury men accused you and the party must vindicate you. What sort of wool is that to pull over the eyes of delegates? Did you ever reflect that tax-payers have decided opinions as well as yourself, and did you ever reflect that they have memories?

We ask the court-house ring to consider these facts, and then tell us why they must climb up on the party's back to load it down. We have nominated a splendid State ticket, why put up men on the county ticket who need apologies? The GAZETTE will dislike very much to bring up the past, but it is necessary it shall be served out in even doses. Men whose records are subjects of discussion must step out of the way. They have no business to thrust themselves upon the party, nor shall they do it. The party in this county must not harm the State ticket out of regard for individuals. The people are wide awake and all the combinations, rings and jobs in the county, will not help "the ring" back into office. These are facts, and should be heeded.

FOR SENATOR.

The GAZETTE has already announced its preference for Hon. Wm. Thompson, as Senator from this county. The time is drawing near when we should give reasons for such preference. Mr. Thompson is an honest, independent rancher in the first place, and the GAZETTE wants to see such men hold offices. Mr. Thompson has been Assessor and Senator of Washoe county at different times and has left an unimpeachable record behind him. He is clear-headed and sound upon every question before our people, is in hearty accord with the Republican platform as adopted at the recent convention and finds no plank therein which is not consistent with his own record. He is a man of the people, not a professional office-seeker, and will represent his county well in the Senate. We invite an inspection of his record and a comparison with other men who inspire to the office. We believe the convention will nominate him and do well by the party.

THE BOGUS CANDIDATE.

Washoe's standing candidate is again to the fore, and will dispute with able men the right to a seat in the Senate of this State. One wonderful element in this candidacy is the strange incongruity between the candidate and the platform of his party. Upon the Bullion Tax question especially, the platform is pronounced and right, the candidate, on the other hand, has always been double faced or conspicuously wrong. We hope Mr. C. C. Powning will conclude to let the people rest for a time; that he will not make it necessary to repudiate his claims twice in the same year; that his friends will cease their generous misrepresentation of Hon. Wm. Thompson, because it is useless; and that voters in convention will give him yet another year in which to straighten his word and inconsistent record.

Besides this, we may also mention the fact that Mr. Powning is not a candidate for State Senator, his impudent pretense to the contrary notwithstanding. He knows this, and it is therefore a second wonder that he should seek to compromise matters in this way. The GAZETTE was forced, two years since, to publish Mr. Powning's treachery to his party. During the present year we have shown that, under color of a false candidacy, this young man has tried to mislead the people. We tore the mask from his face, and the people rebuked such hypocrisy. This white-plumed Navarre of the canvass has also solicited and received endorsement of the Workingmen, so called, and is now paying them with the columns of his paper. We have now also to show that, under color of another false candidacy, Mr. Powning is again trying to mislead the people, and gratify his personal spite.

Does the Republican party admire this policy? Can it afford in the year 1878 to prejudice any portion of the ticket for the sake of dallying with an insignificant?

If Mr. Powning wants to help the Republican party let him store his inordinate ambition in his cellar, and do a little faithful work. Then it will be time to talk of reward. This false candidacy dodge however, is a threadbare. The people are getting tired.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Who said "unfruct"? [This is a mean and scurrilous attack upon the Democracy.]

The Virginia Chronicle thinks the tarring and feathering of Jones was an outrage. It is evident that the writer in the Virginia Chronicle either has not read the Reno papers to ascertain the nature of Jones' offense, or that he is a fool.

Bold Daylight Robbery.

St. Louis, September 22.—An extensive bond robbery was committed by unknown persons at Kansas City on Friday afternoon, which, for reasons best known to the police, was kept quiet until late last night. It appears that a well-dressed man drove to the office of the Jackson county home railroad about four o'clock on Friday, called John Burke, the cashier of the company, out to the sidewalk and had a five minutes conversation with him regarding the bad conduct of a conductor on the company's car. Shortly after the cashier returned to the office he discovered that his safe had been robbed of one thousand dollars in money and twenty-one thousand dollars in county bonds and matured coupons; also, a little insurance policy belonging to Thomas Carrigan, for twenty-five thousand dollars, and other valuable papers. Subsequently the box which contained the bonds, etc., was found near the express company's stables, still having in it the insurance policy and the papers, but the bonds and the coupons were gone. The bonds consisted of ten thousand dollars of Lafayette county, maturing January 1, 1889, with coupons attached since January, 1874.

A Neat Swindle.

Recently an old gentleman, white-haired and apparently very respectable, walked up to one of the paying cashiers' desks in the Bank of England, took a chair, mopped his forehead, put his umbrella on another chair, and complained of the heat. He then asked the clerk for check, and begged him to be so good as to fill it up—£20 was enough he said. He then signed it, and in reply to the question, "How he would have it?" he answered, "In gold." The twenty sovereigns were paid over to him. He put on his hat, buttoned up, and wishing the cashier a very good afternoon, walked slowly out. The check was signed, "Blower." On examination of the signature book it was found that no such man had an account there. The cashier had been in the bank twenty-five years. "Blower" has not yet been seen.

A Negro Lynched.

NASHVILLE Tenn., Sept. 22.—A special to the American from Athens, Ala., says: Last night at 11 o'clock a crowd of men from 75 to 100 rode into town, and forcing the jailer to deliver the keys of the jail, took therefrom Daniel McBride the negro who murdered a white man near Athens on the night of the 7th instant. The crowd hung him to a tree on the spot where the murder was committed by the negro. No fears of lynching had been entertained by the authorities, and the matter was conducted so quietly that but few citizens knew he had been removed from jail till this morning. The coroner's jury returned the following verdict: "Death from strangulation by unknown parties."

R. G. White as a Father.

[Burlington Hawkeye.]
The other day a visitor surprised Richard Grant White saying to his baby: "Oh-ny, no-ny, e mussy tick-hick his little footy-tooties out fum ze banky-wanky, oz e catch cowly-woly an' have ze snuffles." Just then he caught sight of the visitor, and said to the infant: "No, no, you must not expose your pedal extremities by extending them beyond the protecting cover of the blanket, or you will lay your system open to attacks of catarrhal affections." And the astonished child shrieked as though some one had winged it with a defective safety-pin.

"RESPECTABLE ENGLAND"

In Shocking Immorality Albion Lays Over America.

[London Week.]

One of the funniest of modern book-makers, Mr. Hepworth Dixon, went over to the United States, some time ago, and brought back with him a mass of little-tattle and rubbish, which he had picked up in the streets, with the hope of proving that the principle of "Spiritual Wives" was the foundation of American society. Any American traveller in England, with good opportunities of collecting information, could very easily write a book of the same character about England, but with this difference, that it would be strictly true. We are not aware that any Free Love community has been established in earnest London, but the theories on which these communities are founded are coming more and more into vogue. Moreover, they are not even practiced in secret. Notorious liaisons are carried on in the face of the public; and it would be thought a very great breach of courtesy on the part of anybody to ask Lady A. or Mrs. B. to a country house or garden party without the gentleman who occupies the recognized position of lover. No doubt there were always cases of this kind—any man who has known life can mention dozens of them. But the system was never quite so openly carried out as it is now—never, that is, in our days. There is no secrecy or mystery about it. Under such circumstances it is not surprising that the vices of the age—for we suppose they may still be called vices—should have had some effect upon its literature, and produced a crowd of journals like those which Dickens denounced as abominable because they were "American," but of which we have much worse types in England than any papers that find their way into decent American households.

The Storms in the West Indies.

New York, Sept. 23.—The recent storms in the West Indies, according to letters received, did immense damage. At Port Au Prince the Government works were entirely destroyed. At Jacmel, the high sea broke up and destroyed all the small vessels at anchor and warehouses on shore, while goods on the wharves were washed away, including 5,000,000 pounds of logwood belonging to various owners. On the other side of town the rise in the river swept away several houses. The hurricane also destroyed the entire coffee and cocoa crops. Five vessels riding at anchor were driven ashore. At Aux Cayes in less than three hours 434 houses were destroyed, also a powder magazine, court house and public buildings. A large number of persons were killed and wounded. At Aquin 186 houses were swept away and in Cavallion only four houses remain. Many lives are reported lost. The sea rushed over the town of St. Louis and swept nearly everything away, burying men, women and children in its course. La Grande Anse was nearly swept out of existence and at Jeremie only 20 houses remain, and several vessels were driven ashore. At Covaill forty houses have been demolished. In the country district the hurricane destroyed nearly every plantation. At Trinidad, ships, steamers, lighters and other craft were swept ashore.

Our White-plumed Navarre.

[S. F. Chronicle.]
The white-plumed Navarre of Reno is William J. Jones, the gentleman who assumed the role of an invalid widow, for the purpose of luring a young girl from San Francisco to her ruin. The boys got a few old gray-goose feathers mixed in with the tar, but he was in a tolerable good shape to "with the angels stand" unless the devil should detect the fraud and claim him as a first-class imp.

MARRIED

EGGLESTON—McGINLEY—In Eureka, Sept. 22, R. H. Eggleston, of Eureka, to Miss May McGinley, of Reno.

JOTTINGS

—Mrs. J. C. Hagerman, who has been very ill for the past few days is now well enough to be out again.

—B. B. Norton has returned from Weber lake much improved in health.

—Dr. Sheets is back from Arizona looking as healthy as only a successful doctor can.

—John H. Kinkaid, who will soon be the Governor of Nevada, passed through Reno to Virginia this morning.

—It is said that Tar-and-feather Jones was formerly a Salt Lake Mormon. He leans that way in practice yet, however much his faith has changed.

—In the District Court to-day in the case of Lemmon vs Simpson, administratrix on the estate of J. E. Simpson, a non-suit was granted.

The citizens organization for the purification of Reno is doing good work. The songs are skipping quietly and unostentatiously with warnings in their pockets not to come back. The price of returning will be tar and feathers.

Board of Equalization

The Board of Equalization, up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, had accomplished the following additional work:

Wm. Bergman's application to have the valuation of his solvent debts reduced $500 was denied.

B. F. Bacon—Valuation of real estate raised from $300 to $500.

R. P. M. Greeley—Valuation of homestead raised from $1200 to $1500.

John Hoy—Valuation of real estate raised from $450 to $650.

J. U. Jaquish—Valuation of real estate raised from $1200 to $1350.

R. S. Osborn—Valuation of real estate raised from $700 to $1000.

E. C. McKinney—Valuation of real estate raised from $300 to $400.

H. H. Hogan—Valuation of real estate raised from $300 to $400.

A. C. Bragg—Valuation of real estate raised from $150 to $300.

R. V. Borden—Valuation of real estate raised from $850 to $1000.

R. P. M. Kelley—Valuation of real estate raised from $600 to $1000.

George Smith—Valuation of real estate reduced from $1000 to $800.

A. Lopes—Valuation of real property reduced from $1150 to $850.

Lassen Land and Flume Company

Mr. Weed, editor of the Susanville Advocate is once more in town. He has just returned from a visit to the Bay. Mr. Weed says that the Lassen Land and Flume company will, with the aid of new San Francisco capital proceed with their work. The flume from Eagle lake, now comes down Honey Lake valley, twenty miles below Susanville. The company will put up a mill in Honey Lake valley and proceed to reclaim a large amount of sagebrush land. The company will eventually run a railroad to Reno.

Jones' Pal

Carson, the pal of Tar-and-feather Jones, was out on the streets working yesterday, but his fear was so great and constant that he would be seized and treated to a new suit of the Jones pattern that he became positively sick and to-day has remained in the county jail. It is the safest place for him, although while he shows any disposition to punish himself by working there is little likelihood that the citizens will interfere with him. When his time is out the best thing he can do will be to jump fast and far.

ABOUT WOMAN.

Old Sandy Abelliar Proves Her to be Inferior to Man.

"Woman's inferior in every way," said old Mr. Abelliar, in his favorite saloon on Virginia street last night. The old gentleman was sad and he drew vague pictures with his finger in the waste beer on the table. The two other old-timers kept a respectful silence, for Sandy Abelliar is married and they are not.

"Because," resumed the old man, "we all make fools of ourselves about women that's no reason why we should say that they're our equals. No sir, they're inferior to us in most all respects. Now you've often heard folks say how much older a gal is at eighteen than a boy. She's a woman an' he's a mere child. Why? Does she know more than he does? Not much. The chances are he could give her own mother pints on knowledge of the world and has three times the book learnin' of the gal. He's stronger in body an' taller and has a heap more sense in every way. He don't giggle an' get red when you speak to him, an' he reads the papers an' knows what's goin' on in the world. He can aim his own livin' an' she can't. He don't cry because he can't get a new coat an' he don't sit before a lookin' glass tryin' to make up his mind that he's prettier than some other fellow. Folks say he's only a hobbledoy an' the same folks say what a charmin' young woman the gal is. Now, fellers, why is this? Ye don't know? Let me tell ye. It means suthin' to be a man an' it takes years to git up to the standard an' without knowin' why every body's awar that the chap of eighteen, no matter how smart, is only a boy after all. It's different with women. It's a mere matter of size with them. It's aint necessary for 'em to know anythin' to be women. Jist let a baby be big enough an' it's a charmin' young lady. Put the head of the charmin' young lady on the hobbledoy's shoulders an' let him act like her an' you'd put him down for a first-class jitt. Put his head on her shoulders an' she'd be a woman of fifty years old in the matter o' sense."

The old gentleman leaned back against the green screen, drank his beer and proceeded:

"When I got married I—"

"Is that old fool of mine in here?"

Mr. Abelliar without a moment's delay slid under the table. Mrs. Abelliar poked her head around the screen, looked with an expression of great disgust at the two old-timers who were red in the face and uneasy in their seats, and with a sniff, departed to pursue her search.

"Is she gone?" inquired Mr. Abelliar from beneath the table in a tremulous whisper.

Then he crawled out, called for another glass of beer and proceeded with his remarks on the godlike superiority of man.

He Was a Democrat

Becker's saloon was the place. Two were at a table last night drinking beer. A large man with a red fringe of beard under his chin, a checked velvet vest that reached nearly to his heels came in. He staggered. The Republican at the table said to the one of opposite faith:

"I'll bet $5 he's a Democrat."

"Done," said the other, "How shall we prove it?"

"He'll let it out."

The big man lurched up to the bar, put his elbows on it, let out a deep breath and said:

"Putt out yer whisky."

He took a big drink and then lifting the white beaver from his head, swung it on high and bawled out in a general way:

"Hurroo fur Bradley! Hip! hip! hurroo!"

"Here, here! Don't make so much noise," cried the barkeeper.

The big man hit the counter with his fist and shouted:

"O've paid fur me drink! I control votes! Hurroo fur Bradley!"

The $5 was handed over without a word.

New Ice Enterprise

The Mutual Ice Company has been incorporated, with John Cashin, of Nevada City, as President, F. Anderson, of San Rafael, Vice-President, and J. F. Sweeney Secretary. The Directors are F. Anderson, James K. Byrne, M. Skelly, John F. Sweeney and John Cashin. The capital stock of the company is $500,000, divided into 5000 shares. The stock is all taken up. The company will erect an ice house at Verdi, with a capacity of 10,000 tons. J. P. Foulks' large mill pond has been leased, and the river will be drawn upon. The ice-house will be 200x40 feet, and 20 feet in height. The company will also operate a patent ice-making machine in San Francisco.

Republican Club

At the meeting of the Republican Club at the opera-house last evening the following permanent officers were elected: Dr. Fred Hutchins, President; A. J. Hatch, First Vice President; A. C. Bragg, Second Vice President; John S. Bowman, Third Vice President; H. B. Maxson, Secretary; C. A. Richardson, Treas. Executive Committee—Dr. Dawson, J. S. Shoemaker, A. H. Barnes, R. L. Fulton and A. C. Bragg. Hon. C. S. Varian addressed the meeting.

A Compliment

[Emerald Herald.]

The Reno GAZETTE comes to us now much enlarged and improved. Truly the city by the bubbling waters of the Truckee must be a good place to abide when it can produce and sustain as spicy a newspaper as the GAZETTE.

TAR-AND-FEATHER JONES.

He is Coming Back—How Our Ostrich Looks.

A special reporter of the GAZETTE was sent up to Truckee this morning to see Tar-and-feather Jones and telegraph his condition, a number of our neighboring papers having wasted much pity upon the scoundrel. Our reporter sends the following dispatch:

TRUCKEE, Sept. 24th 3:25 P. M.

"Our Ostrich is all right. He looks like a peeled onion. He will not lose his eyes. Jones has appealed to United States Marshal Ash for protection. The few friends he made here by misrepresentation have abandoned him and he can't stay here. He knows a dozen of the leaders of the party who tarred and feathered him and is coming back to do a wholesale slaughtering business. The Cooks, who got notice from the Vigilantes to quit Reno, are here. Truckee objects to taking Reno's bad eggs and there will doubtless soon be an order issued here for a general jump."

A San Jose Sawbones

According to the San Jose Mercury one Dr. Watson, of that city, treated a Mrs. Babcock for consumption. Mrs. Babcock died, but, during her illness and shortly after her death, Watson succeeded in borrowing $675 from her mother-in-law, besides being liberally paid for medical advice and attendance. Then he sued the old lady for $299, which he said she had borrowed from him! As she had to take the body of her daughter-in-law back to the East, she left her case in the hands of a lawyer. The lawyer did not attend to it and Watson took judgment by default. He had her property attached. Now Mrs. Babcock has returned from the East to confront the doctor and charges him, in addition, with breaking open the trunk of her dead daughter-in-law and stealing her clothes.

Christian Endurance

Here is a scene that recently occurred in a railway car and for which the comic editor of the Christian at Work is responsible: A young woman enters and flounces into her seat, throws up her hands and exclaims to her companion, with a loud voice which all in the car can hear: "Did you ever know anything so hot? I am stifling. Can't you open this window? Whew! it's dreadful isn't it! It's always so in these cars—awful!" When this kind of remark had been made at some length for the edification of the company, a voice was heard from the other end of the car: "Yes, it's awful. But we must try to bear up. 'Tain't nothin' to the sufferin' of the early Christians." A general laugh followed, and nothing further was heard from that young woman.

New Mines

James Woodward, a repair man in the service of the Western Union Telegraph company, recently discovered a ledge about four miles north of town, and has succeeded in inducing San Francisco capitalists to risk its development. Work was begun this morning on the shaft, which will be sunk to a depth of 100 feet. If the mine proves worth working, Mr. W. will receive $5000. In the same vicinity E. C. Sessions is sinking another 100 foot shaft for Mr. Leonia. He is doing the work for seventy-five shares of the stock.

Workmen

A fine body of workmen was employed this afternoon on Hagerman's crossing, on Commercial Row, clearing the same of hardened mud, in preparation for wet weather. There was J. C. H. himself with the pick, J. S. Bowker with the shovel, Lew Walker with the broom and the tall and beautiful local editor of the GAZETTE overseeing the gang with his inflated eye. A large and admiring crowd observed from the sidewalk the display of amateur muscle.

Married

On Sunday last R. H. Eggleston, of Eureka, committed an offense for which the young men of Reno will not readily forgive him. He married Miss May McGinley, of this town and one of the well known McGinley theatrical troupe. The GAZETTE acknowledges the receipt of a piece of the wedding cake which shall be placed under the reportorial pillow this very night.

For Assessor

James Toombs announces himself in to-day's GAZETTE as a candidate for Assessor of Washoe county. Mr. Toombs enjoys a large acquaintance and enviable standing among the good citizens of this county and would make a first-class Assessor. He will come before the Republican Convention on Saturday next.

Haverly's Minstrels

To-morrow evening Haverly's minstrels will give a performance at the Academy of Music. This hardly necessary to say anything in praise of this company. Wherever they have been they have drawn full houses and enthusiastic ones. The Academy is sure to be crowded, so secure your seats early.

Dr. Lewis

Dr. John C. Lewis, son of J. C. Lewis, has arrived from New York and will settle among us. Dr. Lewis graduated a year ago from the Brooklyn Hospital College and since that time has been engaged in the Cumberland street Hospital, Brooklyn.

The delegates to the Republican County Convention at their meeting last night selected A. H. Manning to fill the place left by the death of William Duck.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

CARSON, Sept. 24—3:35 P. M.—The Convention has nominated since last dispatch: For Secretary of State, George H. Baker, of Eureka; for Treasurer, J. E. Jones, of Washoe; by acclamation, for Controller, M. Elstner, of Ormsby.

Doubtless a Lecherous Bondholder.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The World says: "Mrs. Dennis Kearney reached Davenport, Ia. from San Francisco one day last week, and complained that she had been grossly insulted on the Central Pacific railroad cars, near Ogden. She said one of the train men had come into the car, turned down the lights, and treated her in a most shameful and outrageous manner. She was the only woman in the car, and two or three other passengers were asleep, but as they were wearing the stationer's cries for help aroused one of the sleepers, who shouted 'what's the matter?' and her assailant fled. The agent at Ogden noted her statement and promised to investigate the matter, but though she was positive that her assailant was a train hand she declined to stay and have the man brought in for identification."
